ERNIE RANDALL  Member of the "Chronicle and Herald" Staff  It is with regret that we announce the death, early on Sunday morning, of a popular member of the "Bath Chronicle and Herald" staff, Mr. Ernest (Ernie) William Randall, aged 47, of 13, Elm Grove Terrace, Twerton. He had to his credit one the longest periods of service with the "Chronicle and Herald," having commenced as boy some 35 years ago with the "Chronicle," when the paper was printed at Kingston Buildings. He was of a quiet but happy temperament, and his relations, with his colleagues, who will greatly miss him, were always of the pleasantest. During the war period Mr. Randall, who was publisher of the "Chronicle," was exempted from military service on employers' claim until January, 1918, when the demand for men became so acute that he had then to leave his occupation. He joined the Air Force, and was found so useful in clerical work, that he was not sent overseas, and spent most of the 12 months of his service at Newmarket. When demobilised, Mr. Randall rejoined the "Chronicle" staff as chief clerk. He had not been in the best of health for some time, but carried out his duties until March 24th, when remained at home. Four days later he was removed to the hospital where death occurred from hemorrhage. He leaves a widow and three daughters, the youngest being eight years of age. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon at St. James' Cemetery. The death of Ethel F Randall, aged 76, was registered 1963/Q1 Bath.
