

Sections 6 & 7

Sections 6 and 7 form a single block. There are 9 main rows. At the southern end, by the boundary wall, some of the paths have been used for graves.

The Burial Order Book has a note by F G Davis, clerk, that on 25 Nov 1907 consecration of additional ground in the cemetery was carried out by the Bishop of Bath & Wells and that the first burial in this new ground was that of Lilly Richardson. She is buried in an unmarked grave at 6.A.5, so this new ground was sections 6 and 7.

BURROWS WHO DIED IN BATH ON THE 12TH APRIL 1932 AGED 80 — | Baptised on 3 Jan 1876 at Poona, India: George Burrows, son of George Reynolds Scott & Agnes Mary Dorothea Gena... Burrows, date of birth: 13 Nov 1875. There are various accounts of the Battle of Maiwand in Afghanistan which took place on 27 Jul 1880. The following is from The Victorians at War, 1815-1914: an Encyclopedia of British Military History by Harold E. Raug p220-1: “On 2 July 1880, a British brigade, commanded by Brigadier General G.R.S. Burrows, began to advance from Kandahar to the Helmand River to prevent Ayub Khan’s force from crossing it. ... The British first spotted the Afghan force, estimated at over 25,000 (with about 8,500 regular troops) with 30 guns, at about 10:00 A.M. on 27 July 1880. ... Realising the situation was hopeless, Burrows ordered a withdrawal. The survivors straggled to Kandahar the following day. The Battle of Maiwand was one of the worst British Army disasters of the Victorian era. The British lost about 962 soldiers killed and another 161 wounded. Afghan casualties are difficult to estimate, but some sources state they lost over 5,500 killed and 1,500 wounded. Ayub Khan’s force then marched on and besieged Kandahar.” The press report of the battle in the Launceston Examiner (Tasmania) of Sat 31 Jul 1880 based on a Reuter’s report has a headline of “The Disaster in Afghanistan”. This has it that the 3,000 British troops were attacked by 12,000 Afghans. A report of the battle by Brigadier General G R S Burrows appeared in The London Gazette of 19 Nov 1880 (Issue 24903) p5804-6. In the 1891 census at Battramsley Lodge, Boldre (Hants): George R S Burrows, aged 64, General Indian Army, born at Cookhampton (Hants), wife Agnes M D G, aged 38, born at Mayfair, London,, son George, aged 15, born at Poona, Bombay, India, and two servants. In the 1911 census at Lymington (Hants): George Reynolds Scott Burrows, aged 83, general (retired list), born at Corhampton (Hants), wife Agnes Mary Dora Genevieve, aged 57, married 39 years 4 children of which 1 then living, born in London, Frank Burrows, aged 7, |
